**Bottomless Brunch Rules - The whole table must go bottomless. There are no exceptions to this. You have the table for a maximum of 2 hours. You must have a fabulous time! We will have other guests in the restaurant, and whilst we recognise that as the drinks flow, voices can get louder and we become less inhibited, we want their experience at Nine Jars to be enjoyable too. We do reserve the right to refuse to serve you if your behaviour becomes a problem to other guests or our members of staff. We will ask the whole table to leave. While this is a bottomless offering, we do not condone binge drinking. **Please make your server aware of any allergens. We work in a kitchen with a variety of ingredients and cannot guarantee that items never come in contact such as nuts and flour.*
